

Invitation to participate in a research study

Do you live in South Australia and have an experience of living in shared residential settings?

This could include places such as a group home, co-housing, clustered housing or other types of shared housing.

THIS RESEARCH IS ABOUT:

- Feeling safe in your home
- Belonging and connection in your home
- Having control and choice over what happens in your home

We invite you to participate in a research study which involves talking with a researcher about your experiences, as well as doing some photos and art too.

For more information about what this study involves please contact Ellen (PhD Candidate):
